Slovenian furniture company Rex Kralj starts 2016 with a new catalogue "TIMELESS". The company was founded in its original form in 1952 by Niko Kralj, who has made significant contributions to 20th century industrial design. The Rex Kralj collection includes chairs, stools, tables and a daybed. The Rex Lounge and its variations date back to 1956 and have sold in excess of one million units. Rex Kralj will show the Shell Armchair and the Dining Table CC for the first time this year. The Shell collection takes its elegant shape from two similarly formed plywood panels, resulting in a comfortable, ergonomic seat. rex-kralj.com

Zita Menyhart Studio is a London-based design studio that designs and produces a mix of contemporary home accessories, furniture and lighting. The current range comprises complementing furniture, lighting and home accessories that together form a cohesive collection. Homecoming is a series of coffee and side tables with a phosphorescent map inspired by the magnificent views of some of our favourite cities observed from above. The tiny dots form a city map that glows in the dark and stays visible during the day. Zita Menyhart Studio will be participating in Clerkenwell Design Week. zitamenyhart.com
